senatorleahy Before leaving Vietnam, our Senate Delegation had a lively and uplifting town hall meeting with students at Fulbright University of Vietnam, in Ho Chi Minh City. We also toured the grounds of the U.S. Consulate in Saigon, which is the former site of the U.S. Embassy. A staff historian shared the compound's history, supplemented by the firsthand knowledge of Senator Sheldon senatorleahy On our Senate Delegation's journey from Vietnam back to the U.S. Mainland, we paid our respects at the USS Arizona Memorial in Pearl Harbor, the resting place of 1,102 of the 1,177 sailors and Marines killed during the Japanese surprise attack on December 7, 1941. I took these photos as the Commanding 4-Star Admiral escorted us, flying Vermont's colors on our vessel.

On Saturday our official U.S. Senate Delegation took part in two breakthrough events in Vietnam that address some of the legacies of the Vietnam War, and that reflect the strong relationships that our two countries have now forged. Both of our nations have built trust by cooperating on POW/MIA priorities, and in other ways. The first event today (Saturday) was the launch of the
