

Aphasia

By Chris Abani

---

My language is dying the same way

my father did:

5

Alone. Night. And there are no storms. Only moonlight straining through holes in a tin roof.

10

And the slight exhalation, lips

pursed as though to say: Uwa'm