

Of the Shining Underlife

By Carl Phillips

---

5 Above me, the branches toss toward and away from each other the way privacy does with what ends up showing, despite ourselves, of who we are, inside.

10 Then they're branches again—hickory, I think.

—It's not too late, then.